Series of Simplified Grammars to which the present volume belongs is too well known to make it necessary for me to say much now in the way of preface. I must, however, record my obligations to two vernacular Grammars, the O hlrfl. HIHI e2US3.V of the Rev. J. van S. Taylor, B.A., and another small book of the same title by S ir T. C. Hope, late Educational I nspector, Northern Division. When I had already made good progress in writing the present work, I met with AH andbook of Gujarat! Grammar, by P. M. Bhatt, from which I was able to borrow a few useful hints. But a perusal of the Grammar now offered to the public will show that I have not followed any of these works in a servile spirit. There seems at present to be a great dearth of English works on the Gujaratl language. When I began to study that language in Bombay a few years ago, I found it impossible to procure a single copy of any of the earlier Grammars. (Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and don't occur in the book.)
